K. Yegoryan

SENTENCE PATTERNS

ALL ABOUT SENTENCE: MY BEST WORKSHEET

Sentence is a group of words that form a complete thought (meaning).

The two heroes of the Sentence are: Subject and Verb

Fragment is an incomplete sentence lacking subject, verb, or both.

We start a sentence with Capital Letter and end it with (.) Period

Run-On Sentences are two or more sentences that "run on each other" because of lack of punctuation and conjunction.

Sentences can be: (TYPES OF SENTENCES)

1. DECLARATIVE (Statements)

EX: The students are going to a field trip.

2. INTERROGATIVE (questions)

EX: Are you coming? What is it? It's amazing, isn't it?

3. IMPERATIVE (orders and requests)

EX: Open the door. Open the door please.

4. EXCLAMATORY (emotions and feelings)

EX: Oh, what a day!

Based on their STRUCTURE Sentences can be:

1. SIMPLE

These sentences have one complete though. Simple sentences can have more than one subject and verb and are not necessary short.

EX: Tom, Sam, and Anna are dancing and singing.

2. COMPLEX

These sentences have two or more thoughts (clauses) where one is a Dependent s and one is an Independent sentence.
Complex Sentences are formed with Subordinating Conjunctions

EX: When Tome came home, Anna was sleeping.

Some examples of Subordinating Conjunctions (SC) are:

When	Before	Since	Because	Until
After	Although	If	While	As

 Punctuation with SC: Never a , before SC
SC Dependent , Independent but Independent (no comma) SC Dependent

3. COMPOUND

These sentences have two or more thought where ALL are Independent Sentences and are formed with Coordinating Conjunctions.

EX: Tom was watching TV, and Anna was washing the dishes.

The Coordinating Conjunctions (CC) are:

For
And Nor
But
Or
Yet
So

- Punctuation with CC Always a , before CC.
  Independent + , CC + Independent

4. COMPLEX COMPOUND

These sentences have three and more thoughts at least 1 Dependent and 2 Independent Sentences/ clauses and are formed with Subordinating and coordinating conjunctions.

EX: When Macy's bought Robinson's May, the management cut the workforce by 15% , and Anna became unemployed

The WORD ORDER in the English Sentence is: Subject + Verb + Object

There are 5 main Sentence Patterns

1. SUBJECT + VERB (Intransitive Verb)

or SUBJECT + VERB (Intransitive Verb) + ADVERBIAL WORD/ PHRASE

EX: The birds fly.

The birds fly high in the sky.

2. SUBJECT + VERB (Transitive Verb) + DIRRECT OBJECT

or SUBJECT + VERB (Transitive Verb) + DIRRECT OBJECT+ ADVERBIAL WORD/ PHRASE

EX: I bought a book. The little girl saw a butterfly on the flower.

3. SUBJECT + VERB (Transitive Verb) INDIRRECT OBJECT + DIRRECT OBJECT

EX: I wrote him a letter. The teacher assigned them a project.

4. SUBJECT + VERB (Linking Verb) + SUBJECT COMPLEMENT

EX: She is beautiful. He seems smart.

5. SUBJECT + VERB (Transitive Verb) + DIRRECT OBJECT + OBJECT COMPLEMENT

EX: The jury found him guilty. The company elected Tom the president.

Glossary of Terms

Adjective – a word that modifies a noun, is used before the noun or after a Linking Verb and forms Subject Complement. (A nice girl, The girl is nice)

Adverbial word/phrase – functions as an adverb and modifies verb, adjective, or other adverb. It answers to questions "How?" "When?" and "Where?" (He is smiling happily. She is a very nice woman. He loves her very much. Yesterday, they went home.)

Transitive Verb: an action verb that needs an object to transit its action. It canNOT be used without Direct Object. (I opened the door)

Intransitive verb – an action verb that CAN be used with no complement. (The birds fly. The sun shines).

Linking verb – a verb that requires a subject complement to be complete. Linking verbs are followed by adjective or a noun.
(She is nice. He is a doctor.)
Linking Verbs are: be (am, is, are, was, were), appear, seem, look, feel, become, grow, etc.

Direct Object – a noun/pronoun following a transitive verb; it names the receiver of the verb's action. It answers to the question "Whom?" and "What?" (I saw her. She bought a book)

Indirect object – a noun/pronoun always used only when there is a Direct Object and stands before Direct Object. It names the recipient of the direct object. (I wrote him a letter. She teaches us English)

Subject complement –the noun or adjective (word or phrase) that follows a linking verb; it renames or describes the subject. (He seems smart. She is my aunt).

Object complement – an adjective or noun (word or phrase), participial, infinitive, that completes the idea of the verb and modifies or renames the direct object. It is always used with Direct Object. (They appointed Tom Chairman. The jury found him guilty. We saw him injured. The captain's death made the soldiers to surrender).